

I got my flu shot because..

A close-up photograph of a baby's face and arm. The baby is looking to the right with a thoughtful expression, resting their chin on their hand. On their upper arm, a small, circular, white medical sticker is visible, representing a flu shot. A white thought bubble with a black outline is positioned above the baby's head, containing text.

If I'm not scared of shots
why are you?!

20,000 children like me are hospitalized every year because of serious complications from the flu.
